RIDDRIE

Welcome to the latest edition of the Riddrie GoWell newsletter. You may remember receiving our last newsletter earlier this year in which we told you about general progress for the GoWell programme and what we had planned for this year. This newsletter outlines what residents told us has changed about living in your neighbourhood since 2006.

For those of you who are unfamiliar with GoWell, it is a ten year programme looking at the impacts of housing and neighbourhood regeneration on the health and wellbeing of communities. One of the ways we do this is through our survey of residents.

Our first survey was in 2006 and we have already circulated newsletters with the findings from that. We completed our second survey in August 2008 and we are planning to carry out another two in 2011 and 2013. Over time this will give us a picture of how regeneration is affecting residents like yourself. What are the important changes? Have things got better or worse – and for whom? These findings will be used to help planners improve services and regeneration in your area and elsewhere in the future.

Many of you who read this may have taken part in one or both of our surveys. To those of you who did take part, once again we thank you very much for your time.

Since our last newsletter we have been comparing what residents told us in our most recent survey in 2008 with what they told us back in 2006. We are pleased to provide you with a summary of this. As you will see, some issues have remained much the same, some have improved, while others have got worse. We hope they will be of interest to you.

WHO'S INCLUDED?

© Crown Copyright. All rights reserved. Glasgow City Council, 100023379, 2009.

There are 15 different areas in Glasgow included in our study – one of which is Riddrie.

The Riddrie GoWell study area includes the areas of Riddrie, Riddrie Knowes and Gartcraig as shown on the map.

KEY FINDINGS

469 Riddrie residents took part in the first survey in 2006 and 260 took part in the second one in 2008.

- Most people are satisfied with their homes - 94% in 2008. This is a slight increase from 90% in 2006.
- Most people are also satisfied with the neighbourhood as a place to live and this has also increased slightly with 97% of people saying they are satisfied with the neighbourhood in 2008, compared to 94% in 2006.
- Public services and amenities in and around the neighbourhood are also seen to have improved. For example, the number of people who rated childcare or nurseries as 'good' increased from 49% in 2006 to 71% in 2008; ratings for shops rose from 65% in 2006 to 83% in 2008; and ratings for parks/open spaces rose from 50% in 2006 to 83% in 2008.
- We asked some questions about whether anti-social behaviour issues were a problem in your neighbourhood. Most people indicated they are 'not a problem' in the area and all are seen to have got better since 2006. A small number of people (20%) say that vandalism, graffiti, or other deliberate damage to property/vehicles; and teenagers hanging around on the street are a 'slight problem' in the area.
- Feelings of safety at night-time have declined. In 2006, 13% of people said they either felt very unsafe or never walk alone after dark but this has risen to 27% of people feeling this way in 2008.

- When asked whether they felt the reputation of the area had changed over the past two years: the majority of people (80%) felt it had stayed the same; 11% felt it had got better; while 9% felt it had got worse.
- There is a strong sense of belonging to the area, with 96% of people feeling they belong to the neighbourhood in 2008. This is an increase from 91% in 2006.
- More people feel like they can have a say in decisions that affect them. For example, the number of people who feel their landlord or factor takes account of residents' views when making decisions increased slightly from 54% in 2006 to 68% in 2008. More people also feel that either on their own or with others they can influence decisions affecting the local area – from 37% in 2006 to 62% in 2008.
- Smoking has remained stable in 2006 and 2008 with 36% of people saying they smoke.
- Self-reported health is fairly high and has remained the same with 78% of people saying their health is excellent or good in 2008.

WHAT NEXT:

Over the coming year we will send you a series of newsletters, each of which will focus on a particular issue and provide you with the survey responses for that issue in more detail.

In addition to sharing the survey findings with you and your neighbours through this newsletter, we're offering presentations to local stakeholders and service providers such as local housing organisations, community planning partnerships, and community health and care partnerships. If you belong to a community group that would be interested in hearing a presentation and discussion of the findings for Riddrie please contact Jennie Coyle on the details below.
